A GOOD DROP: IRRIGATION SYSTEM MADE OF CLAY

- CLAY STORES WATER AND RELEASES IT GRADUALLY INTO THE SOIL
- SUITABLE FOR MANY LONG-NECKED BOTTLES OF VARIOUS SIZES
- SUITABLE FOR WATERING PLANTS WHILE ON HOLIDAY
- ONE PACKAGE CONTAINS 4 SPIKES
- AVAILABLE IN 2 SIZES
- FOR INDOOR AND OUTDOOR USE
- MADE FROM PURE CLAY – COMPLETELY PLASTIC-FREE
- MANUFACTURED IN SRI LANKA

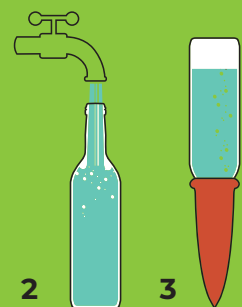

SELF WATERING SPIKES

The self-watering spikes act as water dispensers. When the potting compost is dry, water seeps through the clay spike into the soil until it is sufficiently watered. Clay has the property of storing water and releasing it gradually. This keeps the soil evenly moist for several days. The spikes are ideal for watering whilst you're on holiday. They fit a wide range of long-necked bottles and ensure a steady supply of water to the plants.

A GOOD DROP: OLLAS – IRRIGATION SYSTEM MADE OF CLAY

A simple principle, natural materials and a long-established method of irrigation: the olla delivers water to where plants need it most – the root zone.

FAIR ZONE Olla is an irrigation pot made of porous, fired clay, which is placed in the soil up to the filling opening. Once filled, the water slowly seeps through the fine pores of the clay and flows directly into the surrounding soil. The amount of water released depends on the moisture level in the soil: the drier the soil, the more water the clay body releases into it. This principle has been known for centuries as 'olla irrigation' and requires no electricity, batteries, pumps or complicated technology. It is incredibly simple: place the olla in the soil near the plants, fill it with water and seal the opening with the lid. The plant roots can grow around the clay pot and absorb moisture from the surrounding soil.

FAIR ZONE Olla is suitable for vegetables, herbs, flowers and many other plants, and can be used in garden beds, raised beds and, provided the pot is large enough, in planting pots.

FAIR ZONE Olla Small 1 litre: A compact version for smaller planting areas, herbs, planters and smaller beds.

FAIR ZONE Olla Medium 3.5 litre: For larger planting areas, vegetable beds and raised beds, as well as plants requiring a correspondingly larger root space.

Once emptied, a FAIR ZONE Olla can be refilled with water time and time again. The robust clay body turns a very simple physical principle into a straightforward watering system for everyday use.

PLANT-CLAY-PEBBLES

The clay pebbles store water and gradually release it. They ensure an even supply of moisture and good aeration of the root zone. Clay pebbles are particularly suitable for hydroponic systems, where they play a key role in aeration and drainage. Thanks to their porous structure, they promote a healthy supply of oxygen to the roots and prevent waterlogging, which could otherwise impair plant growth.

HANDY THINGS MADE FROM RECYCLED PLASTIC

RECYCLIP

Recyclips are made in Sri Lanka from collected plastic bottles. Once recycled, they find a whole new use – for hanging laundry or sealing bags. Recyclips are practical everyday helpers. Together with our local partners, we are committed to keeping beaches clean. Bottle collectors receive a bonus for removing plastic waste from the Arugam Bay coastal region and handing it in for recycling. The image shows colour examples, which may vary.
